Tutoring Experience

My 8 years of experience include teaching IB History, IGCSE History, and A-Level Global Perspectives. During this time, I've worked as a History examiner for the IB Diploma Programme, gaining deep insight into what it takes to achieve top scores. I focus on helping students develop strong analytical skills and a comprehensive understanding of historical contexts.

I have taught in international schools across Canada and collaborated with students preparing for complex assessments such as Internal Assessments and Extended Essays. Guiding them through research and essay writing, I ensure they meet academic standards while building confidence in their abilities.

Beyond teaching, I've developed a curriculum that aligns with the unique demands of IB and A-Level standards. This allows me to tailor lessons to individual student needs while preparing them for challenging exams and future academic pursuits in history and related fields.
