Tutoring Experience

For the past decade, I have guided students through the intricacies of IB Psychology and other curricula such as A-Level and IGCSE. My students have consistently achieved high marks, and I am passionate about making psychology accessible and engaging for everyone. I have also helped many students with research proposals and extended essays.

In addition to my expertise in IB and A-Level Psychology, I have worked with students pursuing Criminology and Forensic Psychology at advanced levels. Through one-on-one sessions, I provide targeted support and guidance, ensuring that my students feel confident and well-prepared for their assessments.
