Tutoring Experience

Over my 15 years of teaching, I've mentored students across multiple curricula, helping them navigate complex historical topics like the Cold War and decolonisation. My work as an IB History examiner has given me valuable insight into the requirements for top-level performance, which I leverage to help students excel in their coursework and exams.

In addition to my IB focus, I've guided A-Level and GCSE students in mastering both content and analytical skills. I place strong emphasis on helping students produce well-structured essays and thoughtful arguments, ensuring they are prepared for the demands of higher education.
